

Goodsill Anderson Quinn & Stifel, one of Hawaii's oldest and largest firms, is actively seeking a Real Estate/Financing Associate attorney to join our Firm.

Ideal candidates will have experience in real estate and/or corporate financing with established lending institutions. We are particularly interested in hearing from ambitious, entrepreneurial attorneys who have the ability to do challenging real estate and financing work, the personality to be effective dealing with clients and team members, and the potential to achieve excellence in the area of real estate and corporate financing.

Overview

Goodsill has been a part of the Hawaii community since 1878; being a respected business law firm in Hawaii for over a century is the result of our dedication to the legal profession and to our island community. We are a diverse firm providing a full range of legal services in all of the traditional areas of business law plus a number of specialized areas with a strong base of local, national, and international clients. We represent leading financial institutions in both corporate and real estate based loan work.

We offer a collaborative, dynamic work environment, which results in legal work of the highest quality. We seek applicants who will contribute to that environment and strive to bring out the best in those around them. Many of our attorneys are active in community organizations, continuing legal education programs; and the Hawai'i State Bar Association, the American Bar Association, Pacific Rim Advisory Council, Inter-Pacific Bar Association, NAIOP Hawaii, Land Use Research Foundation of Hawaii as well as other professional organizations.

Requirements/Qualifications

JD from an ABA accredited law school

Admission to the Hawaii State Bar

Demonstrated ability to work as part of a team.

2-5 years of experience in real estate or corporate financing
